The Spring Family Event had a baseball theme. Some of the attendees wore baseball jerseys from their favorite team. There was a photo booth with props such as bats, gloves, and baseballs. The movie we played was The Sandlot. For the adults, we held a baseball trivia game with fun and interesting questions about the history of baseball. There was a station where kids could paint terra-cotta flower pots and plant flowers in them once the paint was dry. The food offered included hot dogs and nachos. Our door prizes were a gift certificate to four Durham Bulls games as well as ten family tickets for the Carolina baseball series played that weekend against Florida State. We had approximately 40 attendees including adults and children.

The Grunts Breakfast was intended for service members and vets who served in 'Combat Arms' positions. Several undergrad and graduate students enjoyed breakfast while joking about their time in service. They also discussed plans for their remaining time at UNC and beyond. They each received a copy of one of several military themed books at the end, as well as leftovers and more coffee.
